A SCHOOL WITHOUT....

Sometime ago an article appeared in an educational journal entitled, "Schools Without Walls". This writing presented and enumerated the advantages of educational opportunities for children obtained through outdoor field trips.

A highly controversial book written by William Glassar, Schools Without Failure, is currently receiving a wide circulation. It advocated the continuous progress of the youngster in school through a nongraded series of successful school experiences.

There are undoubtedly times during the school day, during a teacher's absence from the classroom, that a child can learn some new concept through self-discovery. To suggest the possibility of schools without teachers would be contrary to a very proper definition of education which says: "Education, ultimately and fundamentally, is the process of deliberately attempting to make of the young something which if left to themselves they would not become".

Schools without children are cold, though well heated, dark, though adequately lighted, and silent, though penetrated by the sound of water as it flows through hot water pipes, and electricity as it hums through white flourescent tubes.

Schools without God are destructive, deceptive, and detrimental. Draw a circle to include all knowledge known and unknown to man; in the center of the circle place another circle which includes the revelation of God to man, the Holy Bible. You have a picture of sacred education. Place the second circle outside the first, and you have a picture of secular education.

Jesus said, "Man (children) shall not live by bread (secular) alone, but by every word (sacred) that proceedeth out of the mouth of God". In the christian school His word is studied first in the day, and His truth is established throughout the day, in all subject areas. He is sought at board meetings, at faculty meetings, and at parent meetings. He is honored in chapel sessions, in testing sessions, and in counseling sessions. Stoneboro Wesleyan is a christian school.

DEDICATION

But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: Ephesians 4: 7, 11-13

The growth of the christian school in America during the past ten years has been phenomenal. While Roman Catholic schools have experienced a ten per cent drop in enrollment during this period, the Protestant schools have had an increase of forty-seven per cent.

The vision for the christian school movement throughout the nation has largely been that of the local pastors and their congregations. This is particularly true of Stoneboro Wesleyan School. From the initial planning of the work to the present operation, the burden for its success, under God, has been born by our ministers and their flocks.

To the twenty-five pastors represented in our student body, and to their faithful congregations, we dedicate the 1975 edition of THE ECHO.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

HOW GREAT IS OUR GOD!

"Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised – We (at SWS) have thought of Thy loving-kindness, O God – For this God is our God for ever and ever: He will be our Guide – " Psalm 48: 1, 9, 14

In the flyleaf of my Bible I have copied the following quotation of missionary Hudson Taylor, "God's work done in God's way never lacks God's supplies." Beside this statement I have jotted – SWS.

Being intimately involved with the operation of the school, it has been my privilege to witness GOD'S SUPPLY when man, looking on, was bellowing impossible, impossible!

I am persuaded that: "When God guides

God provides!"

How Great Is Our God!

A NOTE FROM THE BRIAR HILL CONGREGATION!

We take this opportunity to express our deep love and appreciation for Tom and Janet Ellis and their family. Their dedication to the work and purpose of S.W.S. is unsurpassed. Even though we miss them when they are absent from us while performing duties of the school, we are happy and proud to share them with you.

We trust that they shall ever serve the Master with the fervency with which they serve Him now, their channels being this church and S.W.S.

May God bless them bountifully as they so rightly deserve.

Nancy
To a very very nice girl who has been a help to me
good Luck in the future.
